Updates From The Assessing Office

In the first few weeks of spring our biannual Howell Township flight took place. Every other year we contract with EagleView to provide both top down and oblique imagery. So if you noticed an airplane following a deliberate path through the Township in the first part of April, chances are good, that was EagleView. The imagery is used by all departments at the Township. The Assessing Department uses the imagery to update parcel record cards and Land Divisions. The Zoning Department uses the imagery for assisting residents with plot plans. The imagery works well with other software the Township utilizes in daily operations.

New Homeowners eventually deal with the topic of Uncapping. In the year you purchase a property, you are assuming the sellers tax rate. The year following the purchase is when an "Uncapping" takes place. Under Proposal A, which passed in 1994, a property is "uncapped" in the year following a transfer of ownership. This means that the taxable value for the year following a transfer will be the same as the assessed value for that year. This is sometimes referred to as the pop-up tax. The year after the property is uncapped, increases to the taxable value will once again be limited by the Consumers Price Index or 5%, whichever is lower, unless there are physical changes made to the property.
